

Frequently Asked Questions

Who are you?

My name is Debashis Barman. I'm a Computer Science and Engineering graduate from Assam Don Bosco University. I also work as a freelance designer and developer specializing in web and mobile application.

What can you do for me?

I provide one-stop solutions to all your IT requirements. Be it a website and software for your business or a mobile application for your customers, I am always up for it.

Do you have any work to display?

Yes. I had the privilege to work on some interesting projects, mostly on web design and development. Some of them are KEN Manipur, North Kamrup College, Dr. Y. Jayanta Singh, Dr. Surajit Barman and Prajyuktam 2015. I also developed the official android application for Prajyuktam 2015 which was published on Google Play.

Moreover, at some part of my academic career, I initiated some projects purely for educational purpose which finally turned into some mature products, such as Kathamo CSS Framework, Sofia Twitter bot, etc.
